Book Club

Cook from your book

We will meet November 19th @5:30pm- 6pm

Tired of book club feeling like homework and dinner parties feeling like too much work? A Cookbook Club is the perfect middle ground. No set menu, no pressure. Just good food, new recipes, and great conversation.

Join us on November 19 to share a favorite recipe from your favorite cookbook. Bring a dish inspired by the recipe to share with the group, and be ready to talk about what makes the cookbook special to you.

Don't have a favorite cookbook? No problem! We have plenty available to borrow from the library.

Come hungry, discover new recipes, and enjoy an evening of food and community.

Library of Things

We've been adding several new items to our community collection. Our latest addition is a harvest basket along with a few simple gardening hand tools.

You can also check out sporting equipment, a sewing machine, and binoculars. Dana is always open to expanding the collection, so if you have an idea for an item that would benefit the community, she'd love to hear it.
